

Accepting Nominations for the 2010 Awards from the Northwest Scientific Association

The Board of the Northwest Scientific Association is now accepting nominations for two awards: Outstanding Scientist and Honorary Life Membership. You must be a member of the Northwest Scientific Association to nominate. Please send an email to the Awards Committee Chair (mark.harmon@oregonstate.edu) giving the name of the individual and briefly describe how they meet the criteria given below.

Outstanding Scientist (need not be a member)

1. Why is the person known nationally or internationally for his/her scientific accomplishments?
2. What outstanding scientific contribution(s) of importance has he/she made to the Northwest?
3. Has the majority of his/her work been accomplished either while the person resided in the Northwest or performed on northwestern systems?
4. Are you willing to provide background information to the Awards Committee?

Honorary Life Membership (confined to members of the Association)

1. What outstanding service has been provided to the Association?
2. Has the service in office related to NWSA been provided for at least a decade?
